

Descendants of William Riley Woolly

Generation No. 1

1. WILLIAM RILEY¹ WOOLLY was born Abt. 1811 in Kentucky, and died June 10, 1859 in Faulkner Co., Arkansas. He married SARAH DOWNING in Wayne Co., Tennessee, daughter of ANDREW DOWNING and ELIZABETH JONES. She was born August 13, 1811 in Chester Co., South Carolina, and died February 8, 1881 in Faulkner Co., Arkansas.

Notes for WILLIAM RILEY WOOLLY:

The following information appears on page 422 of "Faulkner Co., Its Land and People," published by the Faulkner Co. Historical Society: "William Riley Woolly, his wife, Sarah Downing, and seven of their nine children left their home and farm in Wayne Co., Tennessee to seek a new home in the southwest. In two ox-drawn wagons, they loaded all of their household and farm possessions. William drove one wagon and Albert, the eldest son, drove the other. Carefully hidden in the bottom of William's wagon was a poplar wood box containing silver dollars, "about all one man could lift," as he wrote later, which was his cash worth.

They moved first into East Texas, but were not satisfied and returned to Arkansas. They found land to their liking along Black Fork Creek and in the rolling hills which was to become the vicinity of Centerville. Here they unloaded their wagons and began life anew, clearing land and erecting a home and barn. Their homestead in 1853 was just south of what is now Woolly Hollow State Park.

William Riley died June 10, 1859 and was the first to be buried in the family cemetery nearby. The cemetery today is marked enclosed by a concrete block wall and the graves are identified with markers and covered with cement. William Riley was born in Kentucky in about 1811. His wife, Sarah, was born Aug. 13, 1811 in South Carolina. They were married in Wayne Co., Tennessee. To this union eleven children were born. The twins were born in Arkansas.

Albert Gallatin (b. 9 Feb 1833) died of smallpox on his way to the gold rush in the 1850's. Elizabeth Ann was born 23 Jan 1835. She married John Albert Donnell and lived in Conway (Faulkner Co.), Arkansas. Jonathan James (b. 19 Dec 1836) married Rebecca McNew. They had one daughter, Sarah Elizabeth Troxell, who lived an active life, doing community and church work. She is remembered as having one of the first model T cars, which she drove with reckless abandon. Rebecca married Buck Blythe after Jonathan's death in the Civil War. Andrew Jackson was born 12 Jun 1839 and John Riley was born 7 Oct 1841. Both Andrew and John lost their lives in the Civil War.

James Alexander was born 24 Mar 1844 and married Lydia Vaughn. Mary Katherine was born 24 Aug 1846. She never married. Sarah Terisa was born 30 Nov 1848 and was married to Martin Vaughn. Abijah Davis was born 8 Feb 1851 and was married to Jane Blessing. William Levi and Martin Alfred were twins born 6 Aug 1853 and married sisters, Lucinda Jane and Mary Caroline Blessing, respectively. They were cousins of Abijah Davis Woolly's wife, Jane.

Martin Alfred acquired land and built the log cabin which has been restored and moved to Woolly Hollow State Park. Martin's wife died when their children were young. Martin cared for the children the best he could and two of them attended Hendrix College in Conway. Martin's property was about three miles southwest of his parents' homestead.

William Levi and his family obtained land about three miles southeast of his parents' home. He donated land for and helped to build the first one-room school in the community, Woolly Hollow School. His son Alfred Mack and his wife, Jessie Henderson, continued to live in the community and farm until their retirement in 1951."

Buried in Woolly Cemetery: Township 7 North, Range 12 West, Section 4: "A family cemetery in the old Centerville Community in the north central area of Faulkner Co.. The cemetery is located on a hill on the east side of Black Fork Creek, approximately one mile south of the entrance to Woolly Hollow State Park on Arkansas 285. Census taken in November 1978 by James Kilduff and family. All of the gravesites are covered by a large slab of concrete. For further information see article on the W. R. Wooley family on page 422 of "Faulkner Co., Its Land and People."

The Troxell family was Pennsylvania Dutch. John Troxell and his wife and four sons, Joe, Carroll, Hillery, and another son (name unknown) came to Arkansas around 1845 by way of boat down the Ohio, Miss, Arkansas and White Rivers. They landed at Georgetown near Kensett, Arkansas, and settled at the head of what is known as the Searcy Valley.

Joe, Carroll and the son whose name is unknown went to the Civil War. The unknown son was killed in the Battle of Chickamauga and Carroll was wounded. After the war, Joe went to Texas and settled near Houston where many of the Troxells now live. Carroll married Nancy Plant (Melton?) and they settled near Enders on Mortar Creek. Hillery married and settled at what was known at one time as Plants Chappel. About 1885 Carroll moved with his family to the Black Fork Community where all of the children (except Sudie, who died) married into families of the area.

Carroll Troxell and his two sons, Wash and Howard, built a cotton gin and grist mill on the bank of Black Fork Creek across from the old campgrounds. A tabernacle was constructed on the campgrounds and for almost half a century was the place of worship for the community. Troxell's Gin consisted of one 50-saw gin stand pulled by a small steam engine. The furnace burned wood for fuel. The cotton was baled by an auger press pulled by a large mule. The saw mill and blacksmith shop were operated in conjunction with the gin for a time.
